What is your position and what are your main duties?

My new position is "Governance & Transformation Manager". I am here to support my managers, Bruno & Olivier, as much as possible, mainly through two main missions:

- Support our Project Director for all reporting activities to Shareholders/ management of the interactions with shareholders (Hello BoD & Committees!)
- Participate to the integration of our new shareholder within our reorganization
- Prepare and implement major transformations in the organization, in collaboration with all the team and by leading all the process linked to it
- After the ongoing reorg, I will have to anticipate the next changes and prepare for the transformation/shift to Construction phase.

What did you do before coming here?

Even if I joined officially the project January the 2d in 2016, my previous work was already about NOY & TRE projects; so let's talk about something before that. Before coming the project, I was a business developer for a SME in Hong Kong. My products? French Wines! I lived almost year there, discovering Hong Kong, its culture and of course, French wines.
