The interview of the moment... Alexandre Guyenne!

What is your position and what are your main duties?

I've been a financial analyst for the past 4 years, my main duties are (i) making sure the project will get the proper financing and (ii) enhancing its profitability.

What did you do before coming here?

Before joining the project, I was a construction engineer at Vinci Construction. I spent more than 2 years in Noumea building a 300-million-euro hospital.

What do you like in your company?

I like the purpose of the company along with its team spirit.

What is your best achievement since you arrived?

Shaping the law and other regulated contracts to enable offshore wind industry in France was quite an experience.

Something personal about you?

I am fond of stand-up comedy.

Actually, my company - Le Carré - and I play at least once a month in a stand-up café downtown Paris.
